Purísima

A company dedicated to producing quality.

We are an Argentine company that specializes in the production of dehydrated foods, adhering to the highest international quality standards.

A large part of our production comes from our own dairy farms, which further strengthens our quality results. These are based on advanced expertise in animal nutrition, herd genetics, and milking technology.

Our plant is located in the city of Nogoyá and is equipped with state-of-the-art technology, making it one of the most modern facilities in Latin America.

Our control systems and processes ensure complete traceability for all our products—from the raw material to the final consumer. Because we believe that only things done right from the very beginning can guarantee true purity.

A brand that's good for both your health and your budget.

Formidable is among our brands, a high-quality product with excellent nutritional characteristics—ideal for taking care of our consumers' health and their wallets.
